

STANDARD STEPPING STONES TRIPLE P

WHAT IS STANDARD STEPPING STONES TRIPLE P?

Standard Stepping Stones Triple P has been developed for parents of children with a disability. Stepping Stones Triple P has been evaluated with families of children with a range of disabilities (e.g. intellectual disability, autism spectrum disorders, cerebral palsy) and elevated levels of disruptive behavior. Standard Stepping Stones Triple P begins with a comprehensive assessment of parent-child interaction and family issues. The intervention provides parents with comprehensive support in managing their child's behavior across various settings (e.g. disobedience, fighting and aggression, temper tantrums). The focus is on understanding the function of problem behavior and teaching the child skills that can be used to replace misbehavior. Over 10 one-to-one sessions, parents learn to set their own goals, work out what changes they would like to see in their child's behavior, and learn strategies to promote positive behavior and deal with misbehavior.

WHO IS IT FOR?

Parents or caregivers of a child with a disability (up to 12 years) who benefit from this program have concerns about their child's moderate to severe behavioral problems and are able to commit to up to 10 regular individual consultations, either in a clinic or in the family home.

WHAT IS COVERED IN SESSIONS WITH PARENTS?

Session 1: Initial interview

The parent is interviewed to gather comprehensive child and family information. Details of behavioral problems or issues are taken and parents are asked to complete a series of questionnaires designed to screen for factors that may be influencing child development or behavior. In this session, parents are also introduced to a range of recording techniques that they can use to keep track of the behavior/s of interest over the coming weeks.

Session 2: Observation and sharing of assessment findings

This session begins with an observation of parent-child interaction which is followed by a feedback discussion with the parent only. Practitioners use a guided participation model to engage parents in a review of all assessment information, developing a shared conceptualization of the problem and its causes, then negotiating goals and treatment directions.

Session 3: Promoting children's development

During this session, the parent learns the principles of positive parenting, strategies to develop positive relationships with their children, how to encourage desirable behavior, and strategies to teach children new skills and behaviors.

Session 4: Managing misbehavior

This session involves introducing the parent to strategies for dealing with misbehavior, developing a parenting routine, and finalizing their behavioral charts.

Session 5-7: Practice sessions 1-3

These sessions assist the parent in using the behavior change strategies. The practitioner observes a brief parent-child interaction where the parent has set goals to practice using specific parenting strategies. The practitioner then has the opportunity to encourage the parent's self-evaluation and goal setting to refine the use of specific parenting strategies.

Session 8: Planning ahead

During this session, the parent identifies high-risk home and community activities (e.g. shopping trips, therapy sessions, getting ready for school). The practitioner then teaches them how to develop planning ahead routines to prevent misbehavior, encourage skill development, and manage misbehavior in one or more of the parent's identified high-risk situations. Parents then plan to implement their routines over the coming week.

Session 9: Planning ahead practice session

During this session, the parent practices encouraging their child to play independently while they discuss their planning ahead routines with the practitioner. The practitioner also observes the parent getting the child ready to go out and provides feedback before ending the session.

Session 10: Program close

The practitioner conducts a progress review and discusses ideas with the parent to maintain good changes that have been made, how to solve problems in the future, and whether referral for further support is appropriate. The parent then completes a post-assessment similar to the initial questionnaire booklet they completed.
